JUDGE RESERVES DECISION IN EFFERTZ DIVORCE CASE

The contested divorce action of Lucile Effertz, plaintiff, of Norwich, against Thomas J. Effertz of the same place on the grounds of intolerable cruelty was completed in the superior court in New London Thursday afternoon. After some brief testimony in rebuttal, attorneys Leo R. Robbins and John H. Barnes for the plaintiff and attorneys Arthur M. Brown and Charles V. James for the defendant made their arguments, following which Judge Allen L. Brown took the case. Court then adjourned until Friday morning for final evidence and assignment of cases.

LEBANON D. A. B. CHAPTER WITH 18 CHARTER MEMBERS

Mrs. Edward McCall, Mrs. Anna Putz, Mrs. David Pletcher and Mrs. James Case, who went from Lebanon Wednesday to attend the state D. A. B. convention, took with them the papers for sixteen women who had become charter members in a D. A. B. chapter to be organized in Lebanon. Mrs. John Laddie Buel, the state representative, will come to Lebanon near the end of this month to organize the chapter.

Workmen's Compensation.

The following workmen's compensation agreement has been approved by Commissioner J. J. Denning:

Arrest Upon Warrant Restated.

Nothing in this act shall be construed as preventing the arrest of a child, with or without a warrant, as may be provided by law, except that no child shall be taken into custody on such process except on information or on a warrant on speedy information, or in either case.

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter how long you have had the matter, your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma or hay fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, steam preparations, fumigations, "patent cures," etc., have failed. We want you to know everyone that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible attacks.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it today—you do not even pay postage.

NORWICH TO HAVE JUVENILE COURT

As soon as the Norwich police have had occasion to apprehend any person under the age of sixteen years, the new Norwich juvenile court will have occasion to exercise its functions.

The intent and operation of the court will be to shield juvenile offenders from publicity as far as possible and save them from the stigma of having a court record against them.

Juvenile courts in the cities, towns and boroughs of the state have been constituted by Chapter 338 of the public acts of 1921 to handle all children's cases, apart and entirely distinct from the police courts of the cities and the town courts, but the judges and justs of the police courts shall act as officials of the juvenile court without any extra compensation therefor provided they are already receiving a salary for their office in the police court.

The act defines as a "child" any person under sixteen years of age and goes on to tell who are to be considered delinquent, unincorated, neglected, defective, or delinquent children within the meaning of this act.

"Dependent child" shall mean a child whose home is a suitable one for it, save for conditions arising from the poverty of its parents, parent, guardian or other person maintaining such home, but who because of such poverty is in need of care. "Unincorated child" shall mean a child who is homeless or whose home is for any reason so defective or unincorated and who may not lawfully support himself save by a resort to occupations that are illegal in themselves or would subject him to conditions prejudicial to his normal development, physically, mentally or morally. "Neglected child" shall mean a child (a) being unincorated or neglected, or (b) who has been abandoned, or (c) who is being denied proper care and attention physically, mentally or morally, or (d) being permitted to live under the influence of evil associations of persons or other conditions prejudicial to his well being. "Defective child" shall mean one who by reason of a defect of intellect, of will, of character, or of defect of intelligence, which has existed from birth or from an early age, requires, or will require, for his protection or the protection of others, special care, supervision and control. "Delinquent child" shall mean a child who, (a) violates any law of the state or local ordinance, (b) is habitually truant, incorable or knowingly or willfully neglects his school, or (c) uses vile, indecent or profane language, or is guilty of indecent or immoral conduct, or (d) is grown up in idleness, or (e) absents himself from home without just cause or the consent of his parents or guardians about at night, without any lawful excuse, or (f) knowingly and willfully engages in any criminal, employment or occupation prejudicial to his normal development, physically, mentally or morally.

Court Sessions, Separate.

Sessions of the juvenile court are to be held separate from other court sessions and separate records, including the records of the probation officer, shall be kept, which shall not be open to public inspection except on the order of the court, but are open to the child concerned and to its guardian.

The act provides that the juvenile court shall have jurisdiction of all proceedings concerning unincorated, neglected, dependent, and delinquent children, except such matters as come under probate court jurisdiction. The court can make and enforce such orders to parents and guardians as are deemed necessary for the welfare, care and support of a child under its jurisdiction. This is not for the punishment of the adult offender but for advancing the future interests of the child.

Complaints to Court.

The act apparently raises a problem for town authorities and possible necessity for a woman matron in some cases, when it provides that in no case shall a child be confined in a jail, lock-up, or in any place where adults are or may be confined, except in the case of a mother with a nursing infant; nor shall any child at any time be held in military confinement. When a girl is held in custody, she shall, as far as possible, be in charge of a woman attendant.

Unless the local authorities shall have provided suitable and permanent accommodations for the detention of children, the judge of the juvenile court shall arrange with some agency or person within its jurisdiction for the use of suitable accommodations to serve as a temporary detention place, or may be required, or may employ any other suitable method or arrangement for detention.

Arrest Upon Warrant Restated.

Nothing in this act shall be construed as preventing the arrest of a child, with or without a warrant, as may be provided by law, except that no child shall be taken into custody on such process except on information or on a warrant on speedy information, or in either case.

MOTHER!

Move Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Juvenile Court Hearings Not Public.

Judges of juvenile courts shall, during hearings before them, exclude from the room in which they are held any person whose presence is in the court's opinion not necessary. Such hearings shall not be held in any room regularly used for the transaction of criminal business. The conversations of a judge with a child, whose case is before the court, shall be privileged.

Commitments and Appeals.

The juvenile court may commit a child to any public or private institution for the care of children or place the child in care of a suitable person. It is also provided that the court may commit a child to an institution if the child is attending school, there shall also be a report from the school, and no disposition of any child shall be made before the results of such investigation have been laid before the juvenile court judge.

Officer Not in Uniform.

An officer serving commitment papers from the juvenile court shall, if he is a uniformed officer, not wear his uniform at the time nor wear any badge where he can be plainly seen.

Commitments from the juvenile court are to be indefinite, except the court shall terminate when the child reaches the age of 21.

Evidence Before Court.

No child shall be prosecuted for an offense before a juvenile court, nor shall the prosecution of such child be delayed, until the child has been found to be a delinquent in any case deemed a conviction of crime.

Except where the evidence in juvenile court cases is on offenses involving a state crime, the action of the juvenile court is not admissible in any criminal proceedings against a child.

Probation Officer.

The judge of the juvenile court is to appoint a probation officer as an officer of the court, this already having been done by the Norwich court by the appointment of Edwin Hill, as recently announced.

The probation officer is to report on the child and on each month on the case in his care, and he shall make such investigation as the law directs or the court requires. In the case of a child, the probation officer is to provide that he shall confer privately with the child and with the parents, if possible. The probation officer is to be paid per day and expenses for days actually worked on juvenile court probation cases.

Costs shall be taxed in juvenile cases and if they cannot be paid by the child's parents, they shall be paid by the city, town or borough.

BENGS-DONABOE WEDDING AT BALTIMORE THURSDAY MORNING

The marriage of Miss Margaret Harriet Donaboe, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Donaboe of Baltic, and Maximilian A. Bengs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bengs of Park street, Manchester, Conn., was solemnized at 2:30 Thursday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Baltic. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Andrew Plunkett, of Shelton, who was also celebrant of the solemn high mass, the pastor of the church, Rev. William T. O'Brien, being deacon, with Rev. Adolph J. Albert, the assistant pastor, sub-deacon.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Carroll, of Washington, D. C., and the maid of honor was Miss Elsie Bengs, of Manchester, the bridesmaid, a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's seminary, Hartford. The best man was Louis D. Carroll, of Washington, D. C., and the groom's best man, the ushers were John H. Donaboe, of Georgetown University and A. J. Manville of New Haven, a classmate of the groom at Amherst.

The church was decorated with palms, the guest seats being designated by missal ribbons and knots of pink roses. Miss Nellie V. Milner, the organist, directed the rendering of the mass, the processional was the Bridal Chorus, from Lohengrin. During the marriage ceremony Mrs. John F. Conway, sister of the bride, sang "Promises Made" and at the offertory Miss Margaret Callahan, a classmate of the bride at Trinity college, Washington, sang "Luzifer's Ave Maria."

The bride's dress was of white duchesse lace over satin, with court train. Her veil of lace was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The groom wore a tuxedo, formerly Miss Una D. Donaboe, a bride of a year ago, wore her wedding dress of white satin with pearl trimming. Her white lace hat was trimmed with pink ostrich and she carried a shower bouquet of pink Columbia roses.

The maid of honor's charming frock was of orchid chiffon over silver cloth, with which was worn a hat of orchid chiffon. Her flowers were a bouquet of sweet peas and pink roses.

A reception followed, at Ferncliffe Villa, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Donaboe. The decorations here were dahlias and autumn foliage.

The bride's mother wore gray chiffon, with trimming of ostrich in fuchsia shade. Mrs. Bengs, mother of the groom, wore black lace over gold cloth.

A breakfast for twenty-five guests was served later in the English room of the Hotel Marlborough, New York, where the decorations were white and gold.

Mrs. Bengs left later on their wedding journey to Atlantic City and will be home after Thanksgiving first at South Manchester. The bride traveled in a suit of brown duvety with which she wore a brown hat.

The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls with diamond-set cap. The bride gave the groom gold cuff links with sapphires and diamond setting and studs to match. She gave gold pins with sapphires to the matron of honor and maid of honor. The groom gave gold pencils to the best man and ushers. Beautiful and varied gifts were received by the bride.

Mrs. Bengs was graduated from Trinity college, Washington, in the class of 1919 and received the M. A. degree at Columbia university in 1920.

The groom, who is with the Cheney Silk Manufacturing company, of South

The probation officer is to be paid per day and expenses for days actually worked on juvenile court probation cases.

Costs shall be taxed in juvenile cases and if they cannot be paid by the child's parents, they shall be paid by the city, town or borough.

BENGS-DONABOE WEDDING AT BALTIMORE THURSDAY MORNING

The marriage of Miss Margaret Harriet Donaboe, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Donaboe of Baltic, and Maximilian A. Bengs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bengs of Park street, Manchester, Conn., was solemnized at 2:30 Thursday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Baltic. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Andrew Plunkett, of Shelton, who was also celebrant of the solemn high mass, the pastor of the church, Rev. William T. O'Brien, being deacon, with Rev. Adolph J. Albert, the assistant pastor, sub-deacon.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Carroll, of Washington, D. C., and the maid of honor was Miss Elsie Bengs, of Manchester, the bridesmaid, a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's seminary, Hartford. The best man was Louis D. Carroll, of Washington, D. C., and the groom's best man, the ushers were John H. Donaboe, of Georgetown University and A. J. Manville of New Haven, a classmate of the groom at Amherst.

The church was decorated with palms, the guest seats being designated by missal ribbons and knots of pink roses. Miss Nellie V. Milner, the organist, directed the rendering of the mass, the processional was the Bridal Chorus, from Lohengrin. During the marriage ceremony Mrs. John F. Conway, sister of the bride, sang "Promises Made" and at the offertory Miss Margaret Callahan, a classmate of the bride at Trinity college, Washington, sang "Luzifer's Ave Maria."

The bride's dress was of white duchesse lace over satin, with court train. Her veil of lace was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The groom wore a tuxedo, formerly Miss Una D. Donaboe, a bride of a year ago, wore her wedding dress of white satin with pearl trimming. Her white lace hat was trimmed with pink ostrich and she carried a shower bouquet of pink Columbia roses.

The maid of honor's charming frock was of orchid chiffon over silver cloth, with which was worn a hat of orchid chiffon. Her flowers were a bouquet of sweet peas and pink roses.

A reception followed, at Ferncliffe Villa, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Donaboe. The decorations here were dahlias and autumn foliage.

The bride's mother wore gray chiffon, with trimming of ostrich in fuchsia shade. Mrs. Bengs, mother of the groom, wore black lace over gold cloth.

A breakfast for twenty-five guests was served later in the English room of the Hotel Marlborough, New York, where the decorations were white and gold.

Mrs. Bengs left later on their wedding journey to Atlantic City and will be home after Thanksgiving first at South Manchester. The bride traveled in a suit of brown duvety with which she wore a brown hat.

The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls with diamond-set cap. The bride gave the groom gold cuff links with sapphires and diamond setting and studs to match. She gave gold pins with sapphires to the matron of honor and maid of honor. The groom gave gold pencils to the best man and ushers. Beautiful and varied gifts were received by the bride.

Mrs. Bengs was graduated from Trinity college, Washington, in the class of 1919 and received the M. A. degree at Columbia university in 1920.

The groom, who is with the Cheney Silk Manufacturing company, of South

Local Wholesale Market

Furnished by the Marketing Bureau of the State Board of Agriculture to The Norwich Bulletin.

Active Demand: Apples, lima beans, potatoes, prime beef, newfield eggs.

Market Demand: Oranges, carrots, onions, squash.

Poor Demand: Lettuce, tomatoes, sweet corn, cabbage.

MARKET CONDITIONS.

Lettuce sold well today owing to the fact that the crop is about over for the season. Cabbages are selling for $2.00 a barrel but continue to be in poor demand. The markets are fairly well stocked with ordinary stuff such as apples, potatoes, lima beans, tomatoes and carrots. The wholesale prices are about the same. The market is fairly well supplied with a few weeks ago, at the same price, as the supply on hand is becoming limited. The price of grain was slightly lower today than it was the first of the week. As the poultry market was strengthened at the first of the week, prices have dropped a few cents.
